

WELCOME

Those who are already familiar with typical Swiss values will hardly be surprised that Swiss Aviation Training chooses to offer its first-class training programmes right here, in the heart of Europe.

Punctuality and dependability, those legendary Swiss qualities, are as much part of the Training Center mentality as an uncompromising commitment to safety and a personalised, highly professional approach to service. With that in mind, we are keen not only to provide the highest level of training, but also to acquaint you a little better with Switzerland, your host country.

In fact, we positively encourage you to enjoy the odd excursion or two while you are over here. Whether you are drawn to the stunning mountain scenery, the vibrant buzz of the Zurich metropolis, or the history and culture of other Swiss cities – the choice is yours! All we would like to do is recommend a few highlights in particular.

Throughout your stay, you can be sure of our undivided attention and personalised, friendly support – before, during and after your training programme. So that when you return home, you take with you a piece of another Helvetic tradition: a large serving of Swiss hospitality. I very much hope you will feel happy and at home with us during what is sure to be a very successful training programme.

A friendly „Grüezi“

Capt. Manfred Brennwald

Fancy a cup of coffee, a snack, a sandwich or a hot lunch? Head over to Building B, where you will find a cosy cafeteria open Monday to Saturday from 7.30 am to 2 pm. Drinks and snack machines are also available in every building.

The nearby Staff Restaurant Balsberg (open Monday to Friday from 11.30 am to 1.30 pm) also offers a varied choice of international dishes. And don't forget the many restaurants and cafés at the Airport itself.

PUBLIC TRANSPORT

Trains to Zurich and Winterthur depart from „Balsberg“ train station (right next to the Training Center) every 30 minutes. In both cases, the journey time is approx. 20 minutes.

The „Werft“ bus stop is located just outside Building C. There is a regular bus service between this stop and the Airport. Buy your ticket in the bus or before you travel.

You can purchase all manner of train and bus tickets at the SBB counter in Zurich Airport. There is also a direct train service into Zurich.

TIP:

A „ZürichCARD“ entitles you to free travel on all public transport, plus attractive discounts and free admission to a range of fascinating museums. You can buy your „ZürichCARD“ at train stations, the Tourist Service and certain hotels. If you are planning a lengthy stay, it might be worth buying a season ticket („Abo“) or a multi-trip ticket („Mehrfahrtenkarte“).

ZÜRICH

With a population of some 370,000, Zurich is Switzerland's largest city – the national capital is Berne, but the country's economic, cultural and social heart is in Zurich. If time is too short to walk, buy yourself a tram ticket at any station, hop on board and zig-zag your way across this buzzing city.

Drop by the Tourist Service at Zurich Main Station for lots of useful information, excursion ideas galore, hotel reservations and guided tours, plus tickets for events, performances and public transport. Open 365 days a year.

The river Limmat is fed by Lake Zurich: flowing through the city, it divides the well preserved old town in two. The right bank is home to the famous Great Cathedral, or Grossmünster, and on the left bank you will find the Fraumünsterkirche (Our Lady's Minster) with its beautiful Marc Chagall stained glass choir windows. Don't miss the Opera House (the first in its time to be equipped with electric light) and the Kunsthaus (Museum of Fine Arts), housing works by Picasso, Munch and Monet.

A stroll around the lake is always memorable – whether in summer, when the water sparkles in the sunlight, or in winter, when all is dusted with snow. In the summer season, a boat trip is an excellent way of seeing the old town from another angle.

The Polyterrasse is perhaps the best place to enjoy stunning views across the roofs of Zurich. The „Polybahn“ funicular will take you up to this panoramic platform in minutes. Just next to the Polyterrasse you will find the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETH), one of Europe's leading universities.

Everyone has heard of the Bahnhofstrasse, of course! One of Europe's best known and most attractive shopping roads, the Bahnhofstrasse has it all – from luxury designer clothes to the cheap-and-cheerful prêt-à-porter of the international chain stores, not to mention those famous Swiss watches!

If you like the appeal of the original, and are keen on a bargain too, you should head over to the Niederdorf district (also known as the „Dörfli“).

By day, the shops are crammed with folks of all ages looking for a good buy, and at night the bars and restaurants provide a cosy backdrop for a cool beer or dinner out with friends.

If Swiss souvenirs are on your shopping list, look no further than Heimatwerk (Uraniastrasse 1, tram no. 4 and 15 to „Rudolf-Brun-Brücke“), or Teddys Souvenir Shop (Limmatquai 34, tram no. 4 and 15 to „Helmhaus“).

There is lots to see and do in the Zurich surroundings, as well. Drop by one of the museums in Winterthur, for example, take a stroll through the romantic old town or see one of the many cultural events on offer.

Picturesque Schaffhausen is well worth a visit, too, especially for the spectacular Rhine Falls, the largest waterfalls in Europe.

Rapperswil, the city of roses, also boasts a very pretty old town with medieval castle built right on the shores of glorious Lake Zurich.
