Swiss Aviation Training Offering New Web-Based Training for Aircraft Maintenance

Swiss Aviation Training is now offering fuel tank safety training for aviation maintenance personnel through its new Learning Management System e-learning facility developed with infoWERK Multimedia GmbH. The new courses are available via the Swiss AviationTraining website.

The new Learning Management System offers online training for maintenance personnel in the fuel tank safety, human factors, winter operations and dangerous goods fields and plans call for it to be extended to pilot training courses, too.
